

Hey Kids!

The last few weeks have been so much fun! Thank you for letting me be part of your family every Christmas season.

Tonight I am leaving and heading back home to the North Pole. Santa has a big night ahead of him and all of us elves need to help out so that all the presents can be delivered on time.

I am going to miss seeing you everyday! I am already counting down the days until next December!

Next time I see you, you'll be even taller and I'll probably seem smaller.

Remember to keep doing good and to show kindness to everyone.

Love,
